

universität wien

Vienna Center for Experimental Economics

The Vienna Center for Experimental Economics is looking for Lab Assistants

The Vienna Center for Experimental Economics (VCEE) is looking for new laboratory assistants to run economic experiments.

Job description

The laboratory assistant supports activities related to research and is responsible for the operation and maintenance of laboratory equipment and supplies.

Familiarity with experimental economics, or economics in general, is not required. Extensive training will be provided for each of the responsibilities listed below.

Location: University of Vienna, the experiments take place at the Campus (Court 1)

Hours: flexible with a minimum of 10 hours per month

Pay: 10.68 € per hour

Requirements

- » Interest in economic research
- » English; German is not required but is an asset

Who we are

Established in January 2011, VCEE is an institution of the Faculty of Business, Economics and Statistics at the University of Vienna. It is one of the top institutions in Europe for experimental economics research.

Part of our purpose is to provide the infrastructure for conducting experimental research at the University of Vienna. To this end we maintain a state-of-the-art laboratory on the campus of the University.

You can find more information on our website:
<https://vcee.univie.ac.at>

Responsibilities

- » Operating laboratory computers
- » Assisting in the logistics and coordination of experiments
- » Keeping the lab tidy
- » Interacting with human participants
- » Demonstrating and/or explaining of proper laboratory procedures
- » Working with researchers and other assistants
- » Performing administrative duties as required

If you are interested or want more information, please contact us at vcee@univie.ac.at.